

MAISON EVIÈVE

@maisonievie | maisonievie.com

INTERPRETING ART AS A SOUVENIR OF A FEELING

Date: _____

Kind of art: _____

Where I encountered it: _____

Why I noticed it: _____

Do I want to know more about it: _____

What did my other senses feel: _____

scent: _____

sight: _____

hearing: _____

touch: _____

taste: _____

6

Date: _____

Kind of art: _____

Where I encountered it: _____

What I noticed first in it: _____

How did it make me feel: _____

Do I know anything about it? _____

Does it matter? _____

5

Date: _____

Where I encountered the piece: _____

Why I noticed it: _____

Do I want to know more about it: _____

Looking at a piece of art, bring your awareness to a single sound in the environment around you. Keep hearing it without judgement as you experience the piece.

4

Date: _____

Kind of art: _____

Where I encountered it: _____

What I noticed first in it: _____

Do I know anything about it: _____

What did my other senses feel: _____

scent: _____

sight: _____

hearing: _____

touch: _____

taste: _____

3

Date: _____

Kind of art: _____

Where I encountered it: _____

Why I noticed it: _____

Do I know anything about it: _____

What did my other senses feel: _____

scent: _____

sight: _____

hearing: _____

touch: _____

taste: _____

Date: _____

Kind of art: _____

Where I encountered it: _____

What made me noticed it: _____

How did it make me feel: _____

Look at a painting allowing your gaze to take it in as a whole. You're not looking a particular part of it, you are aware of the whole picture. When you want to blink, close your eyes and bring the image "between your eyes". What do you see?

How did the piece change?